Hyde Photographs Coast For Sierra Club And Lobos League

Sponsored by the Point Lobos League and the Sierra Club, Philip Hyde, a free-lance conservation photographer and Sierra Club member, will take pictures along Highway One during the next two weeks.

Prints of his photographs will be supplied to conservation publications, also organizations and individuals desiring to work for preservation of the scenic beauty of the coast from Carmel to the San Luis Obispo County line.

The Point Lobos League and the Sierra Club are retaining Mr. Hyde because both conservation organizations are concerned about the destruction of the scenic beauty of Highway One which would occur if the State Highway Commission decided to widen the road by adding two lanes.

They also are supporting the proposed master plan for the coast below Carmel under consideration by the County Board of Supervisors. This plan prevents extensive building along the ocean side of the road by a system of credits to property owners. The plan was prepared by the national firm of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, under the direction of Big Star resident Neilhand Owings, a partner in the firm.

Both the Point Lobos League and the Sierra Club are supporting State Senator Fred Farr's proposals for establishing the coast road as a scenic highway with low speed limits. He has, by legislation, removed Highway One below Carmel from the State Division of Highways' widening program.

Mr. Hyde is retained by the groups for the photographing project because his superior pictures in Sierra Club publications have aroused national interest in conservation. He is also an ardent conservationist and concerned about the devastation to the scenic beauty of the coast which would occur if Highway One were widened below Carmel.

Mr. Hyde stated this week that he will photograph spots of great beauty along the road, particularly those which would be irrevocably destroyed by any widening of the road. He is a resident of Taylorville in Pumas County and lived in Carmel during 1952-53.

Carmel Valuation Jumps $5 Million School Board Told

Last night the Carmel Unified School District Board saw its 1961-62 budget worries evaporate like morning fog. Assistant School Superintendent Wayne Greenfield told them that he had got advance information that the City of Carmel's assessed valuation has jumped an estimated five million, and another million increase can be expected on the county property in the school district.

The city's increase from the present 14 million plus valuation to the estimated 19 million is partly attributable to county re-evaluation of all property, which will come to light on the November tax bills, and to new construction in the business district.

School district income can now be estimated at $1,693,220 which will meet the proposed budget of $1,636,166 with $57,054 "for additional needs." This is considerably more comfortable than the $98,312 of expenditure over income that the board faced last month when the working budget first came before them.

However, the board did not join hands and dance around the table. From the start they have been worrying about two budgets, 1961-62 and 1962-63. The latter will have the additional cost of operating the new junior high school at the Valley mouth. And in 1963 the 50 cent over-ride tax runs out.

Last night the board postponed action on the 1961-62 budget until they can have a special study session to wrestle with the 1962-63 shocker. George Yates, who last month requested that both budgets be studied together, feels that a reserve should be set aside now to help meet increased demands that are inevitable in 1963. 60 Attend Peninsula's First Firewatch, Share Memories Of April 18

The tears, the terror, the epic deeds, and the laughs—especially the laughs—produced by the great San Francisco "fire" of five and a half decades ago were recalled Tuesday by the new Monterey County Chapter of the San Francisco Fire Watch.

Meeting for luncheon at La Playa, the group brought together by former State Senator Ed Tinkle of Carmel literally exploded from an expected nucleus of 15 or 20, to a gathering of some 60 individuals who had "been there."

Almost all of them were from the Peninsula area, a large percentage from Carmel.

As anecdotes about the earthquake were shared, the room was so often echoing with chuckles and guttaws that it almost seemed as if everyone involved in one of the worst civil disasters of recallable

Child Labor Is Not An Evil Of The Past Says Dr. John Lathrop

To some of us any reference to "child labor abuse" might call up an image of the young David Copperfield slaving his childhood away in the grimy export warehouse of Murdstone and Grinby, victim of a problem society has long since dealt with.

But a man who knows better visited Carmel over the weekend and said, among other things, that abuses of child labor laws in this country are wide-spread, flagrant and in need of our attention.

Carmel Woods Homes Go If High Meadow Freeway Abandoned

The California Division of Highways presented to Carmel planning commissioners yesterday the only possible alternative to routing Eastern Canyon freeway through proposed High Meadow subdivision.

The alternate alignment would mean eliminating 40 Carmel Woods homes and take all of Handley Hills subdivision, Richard Malone, district planning engineer from the San Luis Obispo office of the Division of Highways, told commissioners.

He showed a map prepared by the Division of Highways after a tentative map of High Meadow was sent by the county planning commission staff to the San Luis Obispo office, a routine procedure. The Hatten canyon freeway agreement, signed by Monterey County and the Division of Highways in 1957, routes the freeway through the western part of High Meadow, planned as a luxury subdivision leaving the forested freeway route as greenbelt.

If this route were abandoned, the map showed, the freeway would swing west of Highway One at the top of Carmel Hill, slash through San Luis Road, San Mateo this country are wide-spread, flagrant and in need of our attention. "A migrant worker making an average $828.00 a year must send his wife and children into the field to keep the family from starving," according to Dr. John H. Lathrop of Berkeley. "Children are kept out of school following the crops with their families, who struggle in conditions of miserable housing, poor health and illiteracy. There are child labor conditions in this country right now to rival anything Dickens ever wrote about."

Dr. Lathrop, who is president of the National Consumers League, says much can be done to correct such violations of both law and the common sense by action on the part of all Americans who are consumers. A consumer can, for example, refuse to buy and use a product produced under shameful conditions of labor, and thereby force the offending producer to change his ways.

In the 62 years since the founding of the League in 1899, the organization has been responsible for introducing the concept of the legal minimum wage in the United States, given significant support to the social insurance programs and was among the early advocates of pure food and drug protection.

Neill And Newton Win School Election, Raggett Tops MPC Vote

Clayton Neill Jr. and Dr. Robert E. Newton were elected to the board of trustees of the Carmel Unified School District on Tuesday.

Mark Raggett of Carmel led all candidates on the Peninsula for election to the Monterey County Junior College District Board with 1,253 votes in Carmel; 2,868 on the Peninsula.

Neill's total was 880 votes; Dr. Newton's 815.

Totals compiled by other Carmel school board candidates were: Mrs. Elaine Taylor, 502; Laurence P. Honan, 398; Arthur Templeman, 184.

Voting took place at four locations, Sunset School, Carmel High School, Carmelo School and Tularcitos School.

Following is the voting by precincts: Neill: Sunset, 833; High School, 354; Carmelo, 76; Tularcitos, 97; Newton: Sunset, 308; High School, 380; Carmelo, 63; Tularcitos, 64; Taylor: Sunset, 132; High School, 191; Carmelo, 86; Tularcitos, 93; Honan: Sunset, 168; High School, 184; Carmelo, 31; Templeman: 20; Raggett: Sunset, 79; High School, 85; Carmelo, 12; Tularcitos, 8.

PADRE TRACKSTERS AT LIVE OAK RELAYS SATURDAY

Buoyed up by a win in the triangular meet with San Lorenzo Valley and Gilroy, the Carmel High track squad invades Morgan Hill this Saturday morning for action in the Live Oak Relays. With all the events scheduled to be run off in relay fashion, Saturday's meet will allow all the participants on the Red and Gray track team to get some competition. On the basis of dual and triangular meet results during the current season, it appears that King City and Carmel should be favored to fight it out for the top place trophy. Coach Rowland Dickey's King City squad is loaded with field-event power and has good swift in the short races, but the Padres can more than match the Mustangs in the middle-distance events.

Carmel's high-jump quartet of Jack Zenteno, Scott Forbes, Rick Shively, and Rick Baldwin stands a good chance to pick up the blue ribbon for this event. Both Shively and Zenteno are flirting with 5-10 and may even do better while Forbes and Baldwin are consistent at 5-5. While King City is favored to win the shot-put relay the Padres have a strong hand with Greg Hulsey, Doyle Clayton, and Paul Rice pushing on the iron ball. Carmel's distance medley team of Lee Oleson, Danny Moore, Corey Chapman, and Gerald Taylor figure to make the others hustle to keep them out of the money in the 10-lapper.

Last Friday afternoon, the Padre varsity clipped San Lorenzo and Gilroy in a three-way meet, piling up 81 points to 33 for San Lorenzo and 31 for Gilroy. Charlie Todd, Scott Forbes, and Doyle Clayton each garnered eight points to lead Carmel to the victory. Todd won the 100 and placed second in the 220; Forbes won the high-hurdles and was second in the shot-put. Other point-makers for the Padres were: Jon Raggett, 2nd high-hurdles; Dan Moore, 2nd 880 and tie for first in pole-vault; Lee Oleson, 2nd 440; Bob Wakefield, 4th 440; Dick Panther, 1st 180 low-hurdles; Rick Baldwin, 4th in high-jump and low-hurdles; Greg Hulsey, 1st shot-put; Tony Belleci, 2nd broad-jump and 3rd 220; Gerald Taylor, 1st mile; Corey Chapman, 3rd mile; Lee Otter, 4th mile; Wiley Bryant, 4th broad-jump; Pete Capen, 2nd discus, and Brendon Seaborn, 2nd pole-vault.

Gilroy won the lightweight meet with a smashing 93-point performance as the Padre Babes picked up 33 points and Gilroy got 13. Ted Leidig was the only first-place winner for Carmel, copping the 75-yard dash and finishing second in the 150. Other scorers for the Padre lights were Tom Leutzinger, Steve Fairfield, Scott Hennessey, Phil Zobel, Ken Weise, David Preve, Jose Fernandez, Dave Terry, and Stan Smith.

KING CITY NINE AT CARMEL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Coach Dave Kline brings his King City High baseball team to Carmel Thursday afternoon for a CCAL B-division tilt with the in-and-out Padres. The Mustangs are well-equipped with fielding talent and have steady pitching but are plagued by light sticks in the batting department. Carmel's squad has also been inept at the plate this season so this could be a battle of the all-field no-hit type.

By comparative scores against Gonzales the Mustangs and Padres stack up pretty even. The classy Gonzales nine clipped King City, 9 to 2, and administered a 12-2 lesson to the Padres. However, Carmel showed signs of coming to life in the Gilroy and San Lorenzo games and could reach good playing form against the Mustangs.

Carmel figures to go with an infield of Bud Cunningham at first, Evan Peskin at second, Bob Little at third, and Lindy Mahrt at shortstop. Patrolling the outfield will be Mike Taylor, Kent Oleson, and Rance Kastor. The pitching selection will be made from the corps of Chris Wilkin, Jim Brown, Forrest Cornwall, Rick Shively, Jim Kelley, Steve Johnson, and Bob Holmes. Steady senior catcher Frank Bucher will be calling the pitches from behind the plate.

Tuesday afternoon, the Padres travel to Pacific Grove for a joust with the league-leading Breakers. Pacific Grove upset Gonzales, the B-division favorite, last Friday and will be a stiff test for the Carmel nine. Equipped with the top right-handed pitcher in the league, Bob Fuller, the Breakers are a good bet to cop the league crown. Coach Jim LeBeck has veteran performers at all positions and the Red and Gold nine is 4-0 in league play.

CHRIS WILKIN TAMES SAN LORENZO COUGARS, 2 TO 1

Turning in the best pitching performance of his career, Chris Wilkin, Carmel High's big left-hander, tossed a one-hitter at the San Lorenzo Valley High nine Tuesday afternoon and put the Padres back in the B-division baseball race. The lanky lefty sent 14 Cougar swingers back to the bench via the strikeout route and had everything under control until the final inning. In the bottom of the seventh, the Padres had a 2-0 bulge when the hosts got a foot in the door on an infield miscue and a pair of free passes. San Lorenzo got one marker on a passed ball, but Carmel's shortstop, Lindy Mahrt, put a stop to the rally when he threw out Steve Rodriguez on a close play at first base. Carmel got on the board for the first time in the fourth heat when Bud Cunningham was caught in a rundown between third and home and scored on a third-base error. The Pads picked up the winning tally in the fifth frame on a well-executed squeeze bunt by Kent Olsen. With Lindy Mahrt on third, Olsen placed a perfect bunt down the first-base line to easily score the sophomore shortstop.

San Lorenzo's sophomore flinger, Don Adams, matched Wilkin pitch for pitch throughout the entire seven innings, allowing only one hit and giving up but four free passes. While Wilkin struck out 14 Cougars only six Padres were strikeout victims to the clever slants of the Little Cougar hurler. Frank Bucher, Padre catcher, garnered the only Carmel hit, stroking an infield single in the seventh inning.

Carmel takes on another league opponent today when the King City Mustangs visit the Carmel diamond for a 3:30 tilt.

CIRCLING THE BASES

Opening action for the 1961 Carmel Little League season is slated for Saturday, April 29 with defending champion Pilot Market slated to square off against the good San Carlos nine in the 11:30 game. Pilot's is well-staffed with veterans from last year's championship aggregation, but will be up against a fast-improving San Carlos crew which could again reach the top. In the 1:30 fracas, Boys' Town will rely on its strong pitching staff to turn back the threat of a hard-hitting Wilder & Jones crew. The plumbies won the second-half Little League title last season and have another strong lineup this season. In the 3:30 game, Sport Shop takes on Turner & McElowney in an even-up battle which could go either way. Both teams are liberally sprinkled with veteran players and each has profited by good draft choices from the 1960 tryout camp. J. O. Handley, Carmel's premier sportsman, will toss out the first ball to open the first game and the small fry will be set off on another action-packed season. Monterey Peninsula College ran into a tough opponent at its home diamond last Saturday afternoon as the San Jose City College nine blasted the Lobos in a double-header. The Jaguars pounded out six home runs in the opening tilt to shellack the Lobos, 18 to 0. However, in the nightcap, MPC put up a fine battle before bowing, 5 to 3. The Lobos were deadlocked with the visitors at 3-3 going into the final heat when another home-run ball put the visitors out of reach. Dave Hansen, a member of the 1960 Carmel High nine, played in both games for the Lobos and has earned himself a starting spot in the MPC outfield. Next action for Coach Larry Cummings' crew is scheduled for this Friday afternoon at the Hartnell College diamond. ... Henry Overin, Carmel's favorite baseball player, has left the village for his annual trek to Nebraska where he will play in the Nebraska State League. The popular lefthander stopped in Reno long enough to tie the nuptial knot and will honeymoon enroute to Nebraska. While on the Peninsula during the winter, Overin led the Carmel Merchants to the Pacific Grove Recreation League basketball title which was decided during the past week. ... The Robert Louis Stevenson baseball team is harboring the best pastimer in Coast Counties play in the person of Tom Jones, a talented pitcher-outfielder with a rubber arm and a powerful batting swing. Jones has a fabulous pitching record for the current season, averaging better than 15 strikeouts per game while compiling six straight wins. Swinging from the left side, Jones is a home-run threat every time he is at the plate. At the Carmel High diamond in a recent game against the Padre junior-varsity, Jones hit a 380-foot blast far over the rightfield fence. This is the first home-run ever hit over the deep rightfield fence at the Padre diamond and will probably be the last one until the powerful RLS lefty returns for another shot at the fence. The Buccaneers have a well-balanced team in competition this season and would offer fine competition for any team in either the A or B divisions of the Coast Counties Athletic League.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE TRYOUTS

The Monterey Peninsula Babe Ruth League is holding its annual spring tryouts again this year, and all 13, 14, and 15-year old boys, whether they participated in Little League or not, are encouraged and urged to report for the tryouts slated for Sunday, April 23 and Sunday, April 30, at El Estero Ball Park in Monterey at 1:00 p.m.

The Monterey Peninsula Babe Ruth League will at the end of their playing season enter an all-star team in competition with other Babe Ruth Leagues in the annual elimination tournaments. The District playoff tournament is scheduled for July 28 to 30. The State tournament is scheduled for August 4 to 6 at Woodland, California. The Regional tournament is scheduled August 10 to 13 at Honolulu. (Our state champions along with the other winning teams in our region will be flown to Honolulu in a jet.) The World Series of Babe Ruth will be held at Glendive, Montana, August 20 to 26.

Manager Hadley Hicks of the Carmel Merchants team will have a strong team again this year to enter in the Monterey Peninsula Babe Ruth League, and he says, "I am proud and happy to be managing the Carmel team and for the strong support from the merchants of Carmel who are supporting and sponsoring this team."

board members appear to agree. The board voted unanimously to award its contract for fire insurance to P. A. McCreery who had submitted a figure of $29,440 for a five-year period.

It also approved the working drawings for the new junior high school on Carmel Valley Road at the half-way mark. Thomas Elston, representing architectural firms Ernest J. Krump and Elston-Cranston, submitted the plans showing allocation of space and arrangement of furniture.

Other work-in-progress reports were presented to the board by Mrs. H. C. Benedict and Dr. Howard McFann, both members of Dr. Richard Bell's Citizens' Education Committee. The former touched on highlights of her subcommittee's investigation of the teaching of reading in the schools, and Dr. McFann on his goals subcommittee, which is assimilating data on such things as: Where do graduates go from Carmel schools? What is our trend in aptitudes and achievements? What is our teacher turnover rate? What kinds of backgrounds do our teachers have? The group plans to have a preliminary set of data compiled by early summer.

The board adopted proposed teacher salary schedule number 2. Number 1 provided for an across the board raise in addition to the scheduled yearly increase; Number 2 eliminated the across the board raise but provided a raise of to $100 a year for career teachers, the teachers of over 15 years seniority who are stuck on the top step of the salary schedule and have no place to go. Last year, when the board adopted a revised salary schedule everybody got a substantial raise and the career teachers on the top step with no advancement possible got a $25.00 a year "anniversary" raise. Top step is $8400; with the "anniversary" raise boosted to $100 per year, career teachers can earn as much as $9300.

On the matter of coaching duties, Superintendent Stuart Mitchell presented a written report which said, "The principal is concerned that next year there should either be more time allowance in the teaching day to make up for time in coaching, or extra pay."

"Should two additional teachers be employed to allow ten teaching periods of compensatory time, cost in salaries would be, say, $14,800."

"If pay were given, as at most other high schools (e. g.: $400 for varsity, sports, $300 for assistant coaching, junior varsity, lightweights, golf, tennis, with a maximum of $700 to any one coach) our bill for the next year would approximate $4,400."

Principal Warren Edwards joined Mitchell in the request, saying, "I don't care if it's money or time, but it should be something. It's neither now." This was one of the items the board members wanted more time to think about.

In other business trustees: Voted to employ the firm of Reed and Heckenlaible as auditor for 1960-61.

Approved the warrant list of expenditures, March 14 through April 12.

Voted a minor change in the school calendar presented at last meeting so that January 18, 1962, would be a regular school day and February 23, a holiday. (Although assuring the board it was a minor point, Edwards had suggested perhaps holidays could be made of January 18-19, during the Crosby Tournament, so that youngsters working there in the Youth Center fund-raising program would be

WHAT'S DOING

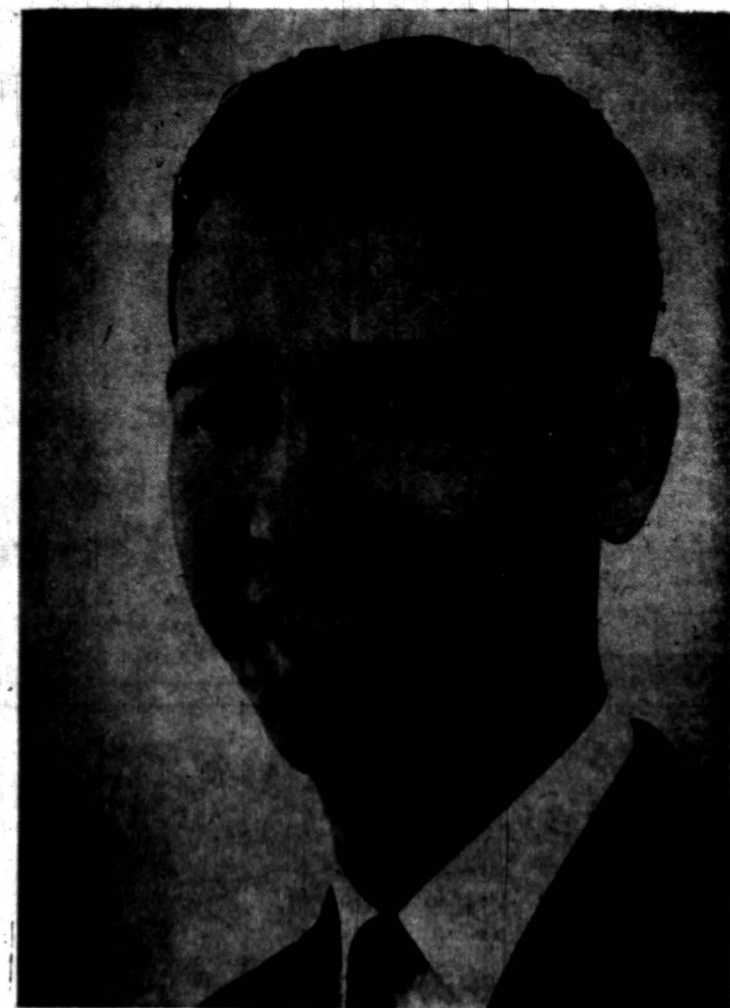

What would you think of pushing buttons to make your phone calls? Well, someday you may be doing that instead of twirling a dial.

Telephone people are testing push-button phones like this in various places around the country. The tests show that most folks can push-button a number in five seconds—nearly twice as fast as they dial now.

I'm told that if these tests continue to go well our phones of the future may have push buttons instead of a dial.

Lots of new telephone ideas are heading your way. For telephone people are always working to improve your service.

60 Attend Peninsula's First Fire Watch, Share Memories Of April 18

mate was gone from his bed. But I didn't need to look far for him. His feet were visible, dangling just outside our window. He was hanging from the eaves. I called out, 'What are you doing up there?' and he said, 'A tidal wave's coming, can't you see? We've got to get onto the roof.' I checked. There was water pouring through the house all right. The quake had burst the water supply tank."

Fortunately for Mrs. Helen J. Small, her family had a grandmother who was both practical-minded and a bit fey. "The day before the quake," Mrs. Small reported, "Grandma had the feeling 'something was about to happen.' So she and her Oriental cook had spent their time preparing a pantry-full of food—sandwiches, cakes and things like that. The morning of the quake I remember my mother fell on her knees in the front hall and began to pray. Grandma came up, clipped her on the head with a gas jet lighter and said, 'Esther, this is no time for praying. Let's get out of here.' Then she (grandma) went on to organize and calm the whole neighborhood, feeding them all from her food supply."

Carmel's "Pop" Smith added a romantic ending to his tale. "I had a job driving a single-rig for the Emporium," he said. "I grabbed my wife and said, 'Darling, whatever happens, we'll stay together.' We saw people running every direction. A lady ran past in a nightgown, carrying a parrot. One woman yelled, 'Save my piano!' Another said, 'Save my sewing machine!' and another wanted her sofa rescued. I helped all I could. When I helped to carry down a sofa, it got broken when we tried to set it on the sidewalk. Exactly nine months after the quake, my eldest daughter was born."

Col. C. A. De Camp claimed the distinction of "earliest quake refugee to arrive on the Monterey Peninsula." He arrived only days after the holocaust. "I had been an engineer on the Oregon Short Line," the Colonel said. "I wanted to move to California but my friends kept warning me it was a terrible place full of earthquakes. Besides there were no jobs. But my mother was living in California so I came anyway and found a job right away at the smelter in South San Francisco. I had just got settled in a room when the quake came and I thought, 'Well, that's one of the earthquakes they're always having.' I went out sight-seeing to find out how San Franciscans usually behaved during these things. They seemed to be taking it rather hard. The street cars had even stopped running. Going past a bar, I saw an Oriental man with a big grin on his face and a case of champagne on his knees. He was living it up while he could. I thought, 'These quakes are really interesting.' Finally it began to dawn on me that perhaps this particular earthquake had been worse than usual. Then after several days more of helping around the city, it dawned on me that my mother in Los Gatos, who had known I was in San Francisco, might be worried. I came down to Los Gatos and discovered she was. In fact, she was so ill, I brought her right down to Monterey to recover."

A man whose name we didn't catch, claimed distinction too. He has had an honor accorded few mortals: he read his own obituary. "Early on the morning of the quake I sent a telegram to my family in Chico saying I was all right. Then I pitched in to help. Some days later, after all the excitement was over, I returned home to Chico. Everybody was surprised. It seems my family had never received the telegram and when all the time had passed, concluded sadly that I was a quake victim. The Chico Record had published a fine obituary. My high school principal had even written a eulogy in which he said I had been 'a very promising student.' I was really pleased about that so I went to him and asked, 'In what way did you mean I was promising?' He glared at me and said, 'You know, ever since I wrote that I've been trying to figure it out myself.'"

Among those in the group Tuesday was Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown, whose family owned the famous Palace Hotel, only building to remain undamaged throughout the temblor and the fire following. "We didn't live at the hotel but we had stayed there in a suite on the seventh floor facing Jesse Street because we had been to hear Caruso sing at the opera. Our beds shook on the morning of the quake and slid together and the wooden wardrobe crashed down, but it spilled open very conveniently so that we could get out our clothes, get dressed, and get back unharmed to Oakland." Mrs. Brown is among those who remember the fantastic panorama presented by the emotional Caruso and the other visiting singers who came charging down the marble stairs of the Palace in pajamas and other deshabille.

Coincidences also came to light at the luncheon. Another woman present said her father had stored Caruso's valuables at the Wells Fargo Bank, where he was an officer. In the morning the father's first thought was the Caruso cache, which he raced in, found undamaged, and returned to the tenor.

Sen. Tickle himself said he had just purchased a fine, double-breasted, light-gray suit for 29 dollars and had laid it out to wear on a promising business assignment to Sacramento the following morning. The chimney fell on the house he was in and drenched the suit with soot. (In the luncheon audience was the lady whose uncle, a famous clothier of the day, had sold Sen. Tickle the suit.) He also said he had, just prior to the quake, turned down a job offer in Sacramento because, "I'd rather stay in San Francisco." He eventually got to Sacramento, as everyone knows, but not because of the earthquake.

Among others who shared their stories of the shake, which occurred on that historic morning at 6:14, :15, or :16, "depending on how fast your watch was running," were Carmelite Mr. Shirley Houghton, recently of San Francisco; County Clerk Emmet G. McMennamin; Elmer Booth, formerly of Oakland, and Dr. Walter Anderson of Pebble Beach, who gave an account of an uncle whom the family "searched for frantically for two days and finally found alive and well but trapped in a Murphy bed which had sprung back into the wall during the quake."

"Senator Ed," sure that many other good stories went a-wasting Tuesday because of shortage of time, asked everyone present to write down all remembered earthquake material preparatory to a planned all-day meeting of the group next year.

A showing of hands indicated that some 26 of the group had actually been "rolled out of bed" or otherwise physically jolted up at the time, even Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni, who was "way down here in Carmel picking her way through the broken glass tumbled from shelves at the Pine Inn."

Sen. Tickle announced firmly that the local Fire Watch would definitely not be considered an organization. There would be no dues, no committees. He then proceeded to appoint a non-committee of three to steer the non-organization through its first year. Named were Mr. Houghton, Dr. Anderson and Mr. Booth.

Anyone attending the luncheon

Tuesday and expecting to find the crowd an elderly lot with a few wheel chairs here and there would have been mistaken. On the contrary, youthfulness and enthusiasm were the prevailing characteristics. They might, in fact, have been meeting for any of a number of reasons, except for one thing...

Just as adjournment neared, a French door to La Playa's dining room was slammed by accident. It crashed and rattled. No one said a thing but the group at at least one table eyed one another apprehensively and a faint shudder passed among them.

Leontyne Price Sings A Memorable Concert For Her Carmel Audience

BY EBEN WHITTLESEY

When an artist is preceded and surrounded by the sort of reputation enjoyed by Leontyne Price, this reviewer finds himself adopting a "show me" attitude. There is some fascination in trying to figure out what, besides effective promotion, creates a reputation so glowing. After mulling over Friday's Carmel Music Society concert for forty-eight hours—a privilege enjoyed by those who write for weekly papers, I find that none of the luster has faded from the memory of a remarkable evening. It was no illusion; Miss Price just happens to have one of the finest soprano voices I have heard and produces it over the footlights with a highly trained artistry supported by pronounced dramatic talent.

The stage was rather strikingly decorated with rhododendrons and branches of flowering fruit trees. Miss Price wore a green dress that became her. All this was forgotten the moment she opened her mouth. Three Handel selections, Thanks Be to Thee and arias from the operas Agrippina and Julius Caesar, disclosed a voice whose every note was vibrant, exciting and direct. The Agrippina aria was light and full of easy motion, produced with superb control. Cleopatra's love song had a warm caressing quality skilfully combined with strength. This voice is projected with such clarity that it seems to float entirely free from the body that produces it. The breathing is almost imperceptible, both to the ear and the eye.

A group of Schubert love songs were treated with tenderness, compassion and whimsical humor that avoided the sometimes oppressive romanticism inherent in the period. At this point the audience was more than ready to hear a fuller, broader exposition of Miss Price's vocal power and dramatic gift; in short it was the moment for an aria. Two interesting selections from Adriana Lecouvreur by Cilea disclosed the artist's long and evenly developed vocal range. They were sung with remarkable clarity, openness of tone and easy expressiveness. As an encore closing the first half of the program Miss Price sang an aria from Puccini's Turandot. It was notable for soft, low tones perfectly controlled.

Four songs by Poulenc provided a wide variety of expression, ranging from the mysterious-tone color of a nocturne to the stormy, full throated "Je N'attends Ton Front". No less interesting and provocative was the group of four settings by Samuel Barber to poems by James Joyce. Rain Has Fallen was powerful in its simplicity, I Hear An Army disclosed the commanding authority latent in Miss Price's voice.

Naturally a great Negro artist is expected to climax her program with spirituals. I would rather have heard more arias, but there is a limit to what a singer can be expected to do in one evening. The spirituals were sung with a sure, free style that made one conscious the artist truly understood these songs in a sense not achieved by most singers, however able and experienced. Swing Low, Sweet Chariot had a delicious syncopation and an inspiring lift to it. My Soul's Been Anchored rang with excitement and strong feeling.

Encores included a luxuriant interpretation of Summertime and two Puccini arias, the last being from Manon Lescaut, dramatic in its simplicity and clarity. A truly memorable concert.

Santha Rama Rau Talk On India At MPC Tomorrow Night

Santha Rama Rau, distinguished Indian author, journalist and traveler, will be the final speaker in the Monterey Peninsula College evening lecture series.

She will address an armory audience tomorrow evening, 8:00 o'clock, on India on the World Scene. The public is invited by the MPC evening division, sponsor of the series, to attend without charge.

Miss Rau was born in Madras, India, in 1923, the daughter of an Indian diplomat, Sir Benegal Rama Rau, and Lady Dhanvanthi Rama Rau. She spent her childhood amid the changing scenes of her father's diplomatic stations in England, the capitals of Europe, and South Africa.

After receiving her early education in England, Miss Rau returned to India, where she traveled, writing for newspapers, magazines and radio. She came to America in 1941 to attend Wellesley College. Following graduation, her first book, Home to India, was published in 1945.

Since then she has written several other books: My Russian Journey, Remember the House, East of Home, This Is India and View from the Southeast. Gifts of Passage, a collection of pieces which have appeared in The New Yorker, Holiday, Mademoiselle and Saturday Review, will be published by Harper & Bros. May 6.

She is married to Faubion Bowers, American writer on the theatre and ballet, and has a young son, Jai.

Mrs. Mackenzie

Mrs. Frances T. MacKenzie, a former Carmel resident, died on April 13 in Battle Creek, Michigan, after an illness of four days.

Mrs. MacKenzie, 59, was born in Bismarck, North Dakota, but lived most of her life on the West Coast. She first had a career in banking and finance, then was active for 15 years in public relations and legislative fields. She was assistant to her husband, the late Victor H. MacKenzie, national convention director of the American Legion, until his death in 1958. Since 1959 Mrs. MacKenzie was associated with the Woman's Activities Division of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization in Battle Creek.

Her only son, Keith MacKenzie, accidentally died in Carmel on December 24, 1951, while home on Christmas leave from service with the U.S. Marines.

She is survived by her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Henkel of Dallas, Oregon.

Funeral services were held in Battle Creek on Saturday. Inurnment was in Salem, Oregon.

GEORGE GIEM, U. S. MARINE Marine Private George W. Glem, son of Mrs. Beatrice Glem of Carmel is serving with the Third Marine Aircraft Wing at the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, Santa Ana, California.

Helicopters, jets and air transports of the wing provide air support for infantrymen.

April 18, 1906...

Mrs. Catherine Davis, one of the Carmel Librarians, was unable to attend the Pine Watch luncheon at La Playa Tuesday, but was good enough to share her recollections of events of April 18, 1906 with the Pine Cone readers.

1906 AND ALL THAT—

By Catherine Davis

Since both my grandfathers were 1850 San Francisco businessmen, our family considered the 1906 earthquake as ours exclusively. It began with a dreadful swaying of our narrow four-story house, built, like hundreds of others in dismal rows of identical boxes, by Fernando Nelson all over the city. (They are still in situ, which proves something, though I don't know what.) My brother slid down the stairs from his fourth-floor bedroom. My father carried me, aged eight, to the front door. My mother staggered along behind him and, all of us in our night clothes, we stood in the doorway and watched the entire row of Nelson houses across the street swaying, too, as a unit. Our street, Second Avenue, one block from Golden Gate Park, cracked wide open. Peacocks in the Park screamed wildly, as they did for months afterwards, every time there was another shake.

"Will it ever stop? What's coming next?"

We didn't know. Finally, of course, it did stop, and after a sketchy breakfast we got on our four bicycles and rode around the Richmond District to be sure our friends were safe. The sky was heavy with smoke, the sun copper, our neighbors petrified. One woman left her husband and five children to fend for themselves and sat, arrayed in an old bathrobe and with an empty bird-cage on her lap, beside the wide crack in the street. She wouldn't go back to her house for days. The man next door who had a night-neer's job across the park walked back as usual at 6:00 a.m. on April 18, and was astounded at the commotion when he arrived at home. Walking briskly, he had missed the whole thing.

Mary Lyon, who was a familiar district figure on her bicycle as she collected news for the Richmond Banner, a weekly printed by her husband and a tame boy in the basement of the Lyon menage, was out too, riding furiously around to get eye-witness accounts from subscribers.

All the menfolk pedalled to town on bicycles to help fight the fire; although we all had horses and bugles, no animals, especially horses, could be taken anywhere near town. When the water supply gave out, as it did immediately, my father had the dubious distinction of blowing up his own place of business on Front Street, and pedalled wearily up all the hills each night to get home.

Everyone remembers the sold-iers, the daily lining up for bread and canned corned beef, the three-sided shelter housing the kitchen in front of one's house, the constant cooking that went on, all the children on the block investigating each other's meals—bread and canned corned beef.

Conveniences? None, except a communal one in an empty lot, a very dirty place where one gathered all the neighborhood gossip—and our own private elegance in the back yard, the entrance tastefully draped with a red plush portiere that gave us definite ecstasies. Bath? I can't remember any, though my mother must have scrubbed us occasionally. There was a difficulty. All water had to be carried in wash-tubs on the neighborhood boys' coasters. We were lucky to have an artisan well in Lone Mountain cemetery on Arguello (which was then First Avenue), plus a convenient break in the high two-foot-thick wall that surrounded it, so every day we hauled water from the well, only two blocks away.

Each night we walked through the cemetery and climbed Lone Mountain to watch the fire, and also to be safely in the open when the quakes came. Climbing Lone Mountain was good training for something or other—in deep sand one slid back two yards for every one yard gained. I still sometimes climb Lone Mountain in nightmares.

You recollect the refugee tent-camps in Golden Gate Park and the ruins that made life a misery there. The sand-dunes that stretched uninterruptedly from Third Avenue to the beach were better. They were dotted with stacks made of old boards, old tarpaper, old tin, old cable-cars. One car is still part of a house on Ninth Avenue opposite the branch public library.

Richmond Grammar School (now Roosevelt Junior High and no improvement) closed gloriously for five months. When it reopened, it had metal fire-house poles poked artistically through its two stories to hold them together.

My brother, aged fifteen, kept all the newspapers that were printed during the year, and later had them bound in one volume as a gift to the California State Library. (Non sequitur.)

Art On The Peninsula

A one-man show of 28 paintings by Andrew Do Bos will be exhibited at the Artists Guild of America, Inc. Gallery during the entire month of May, 11:00-5:00 o'clock, daily. The gallery is situated at Monte Verde and Ocean with a second entrance in the Court of the Golden Bough.

Mr. Do Bos first became interested in art during his early childhood in Poland. He came to the United States while still a child and later studied at the Art Institute of Chicago, the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, the Mizen Academy and the Palette and Chisel Academy of Fine Arts. He moved to California in 1945 and makes his home in Woodland Hills.

Some of Mr. Do Bos' prizewinning pictures hang in the Springfield Museum in Illinois, the Hilton Hotel in Chicago and the Palette and Chisel Academy. He has exhibited from coast to coast, sponsored several times by the Western Art Association.

An exhibition of water colors, pastels and drawings by the late Frank H. Myers, former member of the Carmel Art Association, will open on Monday in the Monterey Peninsula College library gallery.

The show will include 45 works depicting The Indian Country, displayed in the West for the first time. Mr. Myers died in Santa Fe, New Mexico, while he was on sabbatical leave from the faculty of the Cincinnati Art Academy, 1932-33. In this series of paintings his palette displays warm, earthy tones with great masses of dramatic landscape organized into strong compositions.

Open to the public without charge, the show will remain on exhibit through May 7, daily Monday through Friday, 11:00-5:00 o'clock; in the evening, Monday through Thursday, 7:00-9:00; Sundays, 1:00-5:00.

Anna Hoffman won the first award in the monthly art show at the Carmel Craft Studios on Saturday afternoon. Buzz Harwood placed second. Both artists are Carmel residents.

Judges of the paintings in the show were Clarence Bates, Ben Bishop and Richard Lofton.

TOM MAY HOME

Tom May Jr. is back in Carmel after an absence of ten weeks. He flew to Mexico City on his first trip south of the border, then continued by air to Guatemala for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Barbara Johnson, in Guatemala City. She left then to come to Carmel, but Tom stayed in Guatemala for another month before flying home. Interrupted in the middle of a siesta yesterday afternoon, he declared, "I am planning to go back to Mexico... next year."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

How hope is strengthened through spiritual understanding of the Bible will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on Probation After Death will include this passage from Romans (15): "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

A correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 446): "To understand God strengthens hope, enthrones faith in Truth, and verifies Jesus' word: 'Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.'"

The Golden Text is from Revelation (3): "He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment."

Pat Timothy Weds Roger Shields

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Smith Shields returned at the end of last week from Illinois where they attended the wedding of their son, Roger John Shields, to Patricia Ann Timothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Paul Timothy, former Carmel residents now living in Lake Forest. Diane Shields accompanied her parents on the Eastern trip.

The marriage took place in Evanston on April 8 at 11:00 o'clock in the morning in St. Luke's Episcopal Church, the same church in which the bride also was baptized. White flowers decorated the altar and organ music was played while guests assembled. The Reverend William T. Brown performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a beige silk shantung sheath dress with lace inserts, a matching Dior bow hat with a short veil and carried a bouquet of ivory-toned orchids arranged with ivy.

Brenda Burger, a Carmel High School classmate now living in Hawaii, was her attendant wearing a light blue embroidered cotton sheath dress and a hat of the same material. Roses and violets were combined in her nosegay bouquet.

Thomas Trumbull of Memphis, Tennessee, was best man and ushers were the bride's brother, James Timothy, and Charles Schroeder of Evanston.

Mrs. Timothy attended her daughter's marriage wearing a peacock green silk suit, floral hat and a corsage of ivory roses.

Mrs. Shields, the bridegroom's mother, wore a royal blue silk suit, matching hat and a corsage similar to that of the bride's mother.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was given at the home of the bride's parents decorated for the occasion with pink and white flowers.

After their health had been toasted in champagne and they had cut their wedding cake, the bridal couple left for a honeymoon trip which will bring them to Carmel this week. For traveling, the bride changed to a glen plaid suit worn with patent leather accessories.

They will make their home in Corvallis, Oregon, where the bridegroom will re-enter Oregon State College to major in business administration after two years' active military duty. He was last stationed in Memphis, Tennessee, at the Naval Air Station.

He and his bride met when they were both students at Carmel High School. Roger graduated in 1956 and Pat in 1958. Since then she has continued her education at the University of California in Santa Barbara and Lake Forest College.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields gave a dinner for the bridal party at the Holloway House in Chicago following the wedding rehearsal on the evening before the wedding.

Home and Garden Section Meeting

Mrs. Henry O. Hanson will present Mrs. June Simpson as speaker at the Home and Garden section of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mrs. Simpson will discuss The Use of Herbs and General Cooking Tips. Mrs. C. Tod Singleton will preside.

Tea will be served following the program under the direction of Mrs. Carl E. Rasmussen, hospitality chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Walter D. Brook, Miss Gretchen Wahl, Mrs. Ralph Heaton, Mrs. E. L. Bidwell, Presiding at the tea tables will be Miss Philippine Creelius and Mrs. Duncan H. Murray. Helping Mrs. Wallace Lowry with hostess duties will be Mrs. Henry Kissinger and Mrs. William Eklund. Mrs. Eklund will also arrange the flowers.

El Yanqui Carmel Winning Editors

Governor Edmund G. Brown will present El Yanqui, Monterey Peninsula College student newspaper, with a gold medal as outstanding paper in junior colleges with less than 1,500 enrollment, at a luncheon Saturday at the State Fairgrounds in Sacramento.

The award was won in the first Gold Medal Collegiate Press Competition conducted by the State Fair during California's Spring Festival.

Carmel students who were co-editors for the winning editions published in November and December are Karen Stean and Reed Nessel.

Art Association Party

The board of directors of the Carmel Art Association will give a cocktail-buffet party on April 29. This will be the first social event for members of the association and their friends since the Art Association Galleries were remodeled and enlarged. A reception for the public was held in the spring shortly after the exhibition galleries were re-opened after alterations.

Linda Cass Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibbon of Haverford, Pennsylvania, have announced the engagement of Mrs. Gibbon's daughter, Linda Emily Cass, to Anthony Gilbert, son of Mrs. Grace Ross Gilbert and Mr. Morris Gilbert of New York.

Linda attended Sunset School when her mother was curator of the Carmel Art Association Gallery. Since then she has completed her education at the Shipley School and Radcliffe College, Harvard University.

Her fiancé graduated from Harvard, where he was a member of the Hasty Pudding Club, and is now studying at Chicago University Law School.

Linda's brother is Timothy Cass and her father is Dr. Alonzo Cass of Los Angeles.

World Affairs Council Meeting

Tensions in Eastern Europe is the title of the talk Dr. Witold S. Sworakowski, assistant director of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University, will give for members of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Carmel High School auditorium.

Mrs. Hare To Go To Egypt

Mrs. Hildreth Hare will leave Carmel on Saturday for Cairo, Egypt, where she will visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Economakidis, and her grandson Ediel, one year old. She will fly to London, then continue by air to Geneva, Munich, Vienna and Istanbul with several-day stops in each city. She hopes to arrive in Cairo in time to welcome George and Gay's second child which will be born next month.

Annette Smith Receives Award

Annette Smith of Carmel, a business administration student at Monterey Peninsula College, will be honored with 59 other Northern California winners of Bank of America Junior College Business Awards at a dinner in San Francisco tonight.

She will receive a cash award of $100 in recognition of her outstanding scholastic record and participation in school and community activities.

William Monroe, finance; Mrs. Firmin Gryp and Mrs. Jean O. McDonald, tickets; Mrs. Robert G. Chapman, ushers; Mrs. Loran List, costumes; Mrs. John Clancy, stage and properties; and Mrs. George Yates, makeup.

Talk On Japan At Town House

Mrs. Helen Mears will describe Life in Pre-war Japan at the regular afternoon meeting at Town House at 3:00 o'clock on Wednesday.

A graduate of the University of the State of New York, Mrs. Mears went to Japan first as an English teacher at the Hokoriko Girls' School in Kanazawa, where she spent five years. Later, after having returned to Amsterdam, New York, where she taught, she went back to Japan for a visit.

A resident of Carmel for the past two years, Mrs. Mears is president of the Women's Association of the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Tea will follow the meeting, and all who are interested are invited.

Born At Community Hospital

Five Carmel babies were born at the Peninsula Community Hospital in the first two weeks of April, two more will call Big Sur home and one will live in Upper Carmel Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shea's son, John Brian, was born on the last day of March.

On April 7 Mr. and Mrs. William Harder of Jamesburg Route, Carmel Valley, became the parents of a second son, John Patrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Danysh have a daughter, Sarah, who was born on April 8.

Janet Elisabeth is the name Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Madler gave to their daughter born on April 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunther Querfurth named their daughter, Sarah Allyson. She was born on April 10.

Allan Munro Boyd was born on April 12. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Boyd.

The Big Sur babies will both live at the U.S. Naval Facility at Point Sur. They are Anna Lynn Zepp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zepp, and Elizabeth Ann, daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. David Boice. Anna Lynn was born on March 30. Elizabeth Ann's birthday is April 1.

Hammond Organ Society To Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Graham will be host and hostess at their home in Carmel Woods on Sunday for members of the Monterey County Hammond Organ Society. Guest artist on this occasion will be Frances Croft, a Palo Alto organist and teacher. She will demonstrate several of her special arrangements that are popular with her pupils and other organists.

Nancy Moore In Berkeley Play

Mrs. W. B. Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackay Brown, has the supporting role in Somerset Maugham's play, Theater, a production of the Berkeley Community Players which closes this weekend.

Nancy was actively interested in drama at Carmel High School, also during the time she attended Stanford University. She pursued this interest as a student at the Pasadena Playhouse and later in local theatrical productions. She now lives in Berkeley and is the mother of three sons.

Also in the Berkeley play is Delphine Smith who formerly appeared in plays at the Wharf Theatre and the First Theatre.

SUMMER RHAPSODY

The trilling clarinets of sleepy frogs
Accompany the slow demise of spring,
But growing spry in warming lowland bogs
For dawdling summer they more loudly sing.
The desultory wind, which strums the trees
With lazy, vagrant puffs and gently sways
The grain, appears to be a slothful breeze
And hinders any thought of passing days.
Staccato rains and thunder's kettle drum
Accelerate the growth of cresting wheat
As August brings the first chrysanthemum
And forces corn to soar by humid heat.

The summer rhapsody ends with the rise in shrill crescendo of crickets' cries.

—JOYCE W. WEBB

EXCURSION INTO YOUTH

Now that my hair is white,
And I am braver than I was then,
I crossed the threshold of that dreadful door,
Into the chamber of discarded thought.

I found no monsters there, with flaming eyes,
But, like any attic,
Only remnants of familiar things,
Mellowed with age.

Each I touched, thinking to burn the lot,
But, reconsidering, each replaced—
Though useless to me now,
Still, I could not part with them.

From the middle of the room,
I surveyed them all,
Then, promising myself another look
On another rainy day,
I withdrew,
And quietly closed the door.

There was a spruce, a dry creek bed,
a fist of cloud,
A bitter edge of cabin to the wind,
An Indian trail before the miner came.
There is an echo of voice in the needles of the spruce—
Rusted cans at the bend of the creek;
An oriole nest and autumn on the left,
But the spring will be darker and torn—
The cabin wall down—
The sky full of fists.

Lewis Bruun In Organ Recital At
St. Mary's, April 26

Lewis Bruun, young organ recitalist from Pennsylvania, will present an organ concert on the Aeolian-Skinner Organ in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Salinas, April 26 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Bruun, a native of California, is already known as a recitalist on the east and west coasts. He studied with Richard Purvis of San Francisco, then was awarded an organ scholarship to the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, Maryland, where he studied with Paul Callaway, Organist and Master of the Choristers of the National Cathedral, Washington, D.C. Recently he received the Bachelor of Music and the Master of Music degrees in organ from the Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N.J., working under Dr. Alexander McCurdy. While at Westminster Choir College, Mr. Bruun was awarded the Baumgartner Award for highest distinction.

He has appeared at City Hall, Portland, Maine, and five times at the University of Pennsylvania. Presently he is Minister of Music at Trinity Reformed Church in Pottstown, Pennsylvania. He was also organist at the Christ Episcopal Church, Eureka, California for eight years, during the rectorship of the Reverend J. Thomas Lewis, now rector of St. Paul's, Salinas. Free will offering accepted. Mr. Bruun will present the following program: Prelude in B Minor, Sheep May Safely Graze, J. S. Bach.

Two Chorale Preludes: Deck Thyself My Soul, O Blessed Jesu, Johannes Brahms, Fugue in E flat Major (St. Anne) J. S. Bach, Symphony VI, Allegro, Charles M. Widor; Prelude and Fugue in G Minor, Marcel Dupre; Supplication, and Partita on Christ Is Risen, Toccata, Richard Purvis.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENTS OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIFORNIA, AT A MEETING TO BE HELD IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER OF SAID CITY, ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1961, AT THE HOUR OF 4:00 O'CLOCK P. M., WILL CONSIDER AND ACT UPON THE FOLLOWING:

1. APPLICATION OF CARMEL PLAZA COMPANY for a Use Permit to floodlight the grounds and/or buildings at Lots 1 to 9, Block 78, Ocean Avenue between Junipero and Mission Streets, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, for decorative purposes.

2. APPLICATION OF BERNICE T. HENDRICKS, for a Use Permit to declare as a Building Site all of Parcel C and the Northerly portion of Parcel B, as such parcels were established by action of the Planning Commission of said City on August 20, 1952; said site being applied for having in excess of 4,000 square feet but not in the shape of a rectangle; both parcels being located on Santa Lucia and Scenic Road, being a portion of Lot 12, Block A6, Addition No. 6, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California.

3. APPLICATION OF L. E. GOTTFRIED for a Use Permit to declare as Building Sites of the same approximate location and shape as those established by action of the Board of Adjustments on February 24, 1954, said sites being applied for having in excess of 4,000 square feet but neither in the shape of a rectangle; both parcels being located on Flanders Way, being portions of Lots 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, Block 104, Addition No. 5, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California.

SAID APPLICATIONS ARE MADE UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF SECTIONS 1332 (a), 1333 (k), and 1304.1 (k) OF THE

INVITING BIDS FOR THE GRANTING OF AN EXCLUSIVE FRANCHISE FOR THE COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE, ASHES AND REFUSE WITHIN THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

1. That bids are hereby invited for the granting of an exclusive franchise for the collection and disposal of garbage, ashes and refuse within the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California for a period of ten (10) years beginning on the first day of June, 1961.

2. That sealed bids will be received and opened at a regular meeting of said City Council at the Council Chambers of said City on the third day of May, 1961, at 7:45 P. M.

3. That each bidder must signify his willingness to maintain, during the term of the said contract, an office in the business district of said city, which shall be kept open during normal business hours and where he may be contacted by persons desiring garbage or refuse collection service.

4. That at the time of entering into the contract the successful bidder must file with the City Clerk of said city a surety bond to guarantee the faithful performance of the said contract in the sum of $10,000, if executed by a corporation licensed to transact surety business within the State of California, as surety, or in the sum of $20,000, if executed by two or more individual sureties.

5. That the bid should provide that the bidder will pay all charges of the Garbage District to the city, or any other charges in connection with the disposal of garbage removed from the city by franchiseholder throughout the duration of said franchise, and in addition shall pay the city an annual franchise fee of not less than $2,500.00 per annum throughout said term.

6. That the bidder should also agree to maintain a fifteen (15) yard capacity truck at all times within the city and within which the city refuse could be placed and removed weekly without charge to the city, with the proviso that any additional truck loads of the city refuse would be handled for a charge of twenty ($20.00) dollars per load.

7. That the bidder should also agree that in the event of annexation to the city of an area already being served by the bidder, the additional area would become subject to the franchise. The franchise fee would be increased in proportion to one-fourth (1/4) of the increase in population served.

8. That the said City Council reserves the right to award the bid to the person, firm or corporation submitting what the Council deems to be the best bid, considering the interest and welfare of the residents of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, regardless of whether the same be the highest bid submitted.

9. That said City Council reserves the further right to reject any and all bids, to postpone the granting of the said franchise from time to time and to provide further that said franchise shall be cancellable at the option of the city upon ninety (90) days notice in writing.

10. That the holder of the franchise shall be limited to the rates and fees established by Section 910 of the Municipal Code, provided, however, that such holder of the franchise or the City Council shall be permitted to raise the question of varying such rates and fees at any time during the term of the contract, and the contractor may, without invalidation of the contract, charge such rates and fees as may by ordinance be provided by the City Council.

11. That the terms and conditions of the contract shall be reviewed each year between the first day of January and the first day of March in order to provide for such adjustments between the parties as may be mutually agreed upon in writing without invalidation of the contract.

Road and Upper Trail in Carmel Woods, for the Carpenter Street interchange, then proceed south through the middle of Handley Hills, cross present Highway One cutting into the northern boundary of Carmel Hills to Hatton Canyon, continue back of the High School to the mouth of the Valley.

This would be a more expensive and destructive route than the High Meadow alignment, Mr. Malone remarked, but was "the best we could do."

Chairman Herbert Blanks remarked, the alternate freeway route could be created only "at the cost of the entire local area." Other commissioners expressed horror at the devastation that would result if the alternate route were adopted. No action was taken.

Just previous to Mr. Malone's presentation, commissioners recommended High Meadow subdivision to the county planning commission. The proposed layout for High Meadow was a fine example of what can be created in the way of subdivisions and a criterion for future subdivision development, they stated in their recommendation. Carmel Land Company is proposing to develop High Meadow.

Also yesterday afternoon, commissioners gave a floodlighting use permit to the Standard Oil Company for two eight-foot and four two-foot mushroom type electroliers for a gas station at the northeast corner of Junipero and Fourth. They studied plans for Henley's Hutch, a trailer housing a shoeshine operation, to be located off Dolores Street near the post office on land owned by P. C. Lee. The eight by six foot strip, at present black-topped, was stipulated for landscaping when a post office extension permit was granted Mr. Lee.

Commissioners also discussed Rotary Club plans for a senior citizen recreation area at the Mission and Third city park site.

Nina Fenner

Mrs. Nina Lynne Fenner, a resident of Carmel for the past 15 years, died in a local hospital on Saturday following a long illness. Her home was at Fifth Avenue and Lincoln Street. She was the mother of Mrs. Eugene Scheffer of Carmel.

Mrs. Fenner was born in Longview, Texas, on January 11, 1889. She lived for many years in Des Moines, Iowa, after her marriage to Frederick Fenner whose death occurred in 1943. She also made her home for some time in Truth or Consequences, New Mexico, where she was active in recreation work, also a member of the Pilot's Club. Immediately before coming to Carmel, Mrs. Fenner lived in Los Angeles for two years.

In addition to her daughter in Carmel, she is survived by a brother, John Garland Brown of Mineola, Texas; and four grandchildren, Mrs. Melinda Douglas, Fritz, David and Ann Scheffer, all of Carmel; and a great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday in the Paul Funeral Chapel with the Reverend H. M. M. Nicholas of All Saints' Episcopal Church officiating. Burial was in Mission Memorial Park.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. Fenner may do so in the form of donations to the United Tri-County Cerebral Palsy Association, Monterey County Fairgrounds.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone

Varley-Gammons Marriage

Mrs. René G. Varley of Carmel and Roger Sherman Gammons were married on Friday in Salinas. They will live in San Benancio Canyon.

Mrs. Gammons, the daughter of Mrs. Grace Parsons Douglas of Pebble Beach, is a graduate of the University of California and the Sorbonne. She has three children, Richard, Danielle and Julian.

Mr. Gammons is a graduate of Harvard University, now on the faculty of Hartnell College in Salinas. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gammons of South Duxbury, Massachusetts. He is the father of two sons, Roger Jr. and David.

He is also a partner in Silver Pines Camp near Redding where the family will spend the summer, and a member of the Corral de Tierra Country Club.

O. E. S. Grand Matron Visit

Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, Deputy Grand Matron, of the 45th District will make her official visit to Carmel Chapter No. 581, Order of the Eastern Star, on Wednesday. All members are urged to attend.

Reception For Leontyne Price

Mrs. James Hatlo was hostess at a reception in honor of Leontyne Price, following the Metropolitan Opera Company soprano's concert here Friday evening. Guests were members of the board of directors of the Carmel Music Society.

Culture Vultures Visit Mission

At their last meeting the Culture Vultures visited Carmel Mission. Next Wednesday evening, at 8:00 o'clock, they will meet in the Silk Horse Lounge at the Naval Postgraduate School for a talk on styles in hairdressing, according to Mrs. Paul Smith, president.

The Culture Vultures group was organized four years ago by Navy wives living on the Peninsula who wished to know their community, particularly in the fields of art, music, drama and history. Since then wives of civilians have joined the group.

Mrs. Smith emphasizes that all interested women are invited to attend the Culture Vulture meeting next week.

OBSERVE SCHOOLS WEEK

The Carmel Masonic Lodge and Order of the Eastern Star will have a joint observation of Public Schools Week Friday, April 28, beginning at 6:30 o'clock with a pot luck dinner at the Cypress Club. There will be a program following the dinner. All Masons and members of O. E. S. are invited to attend.

Music On The Peninsula

By Mary Lindsay-Oliver

The second Sunday Concert of The Theatre Arts Institute, managed by Alex Duwe of Carmel at the Steinbeck Theatre, presented Austin Ritter, violinist and Janice Button, pianist, teachers at the San Francisco Conservatory. Somewhat diffident in the Beethoven Romanze in F Major with which the program started, Ritter's grip of the music and technique picked up in the difficult Brahms Sonata in D Minor followed by Bartok's No. 2 Sonata. This characteristic piece by the Hungarian composer was given a thoroughly effective reading. Ernest Block, Nigun, Fritz Kreisler's arrangement of Pugnani's Prelude and Allegro, and the Wieniowski Polonaise Brilliant, besides a Debussy for encore, thoroughly established the young artist as one of talent and bright future.

Janice Button rendered the piano parts with credit in spite of an unsympathetic instrument, and both were recalled by the attentive though small audience.

This Series had opened April 9 with Marcus and Leona Gordon, a soprano and pianist married couple. The singer was a person with charm, and a voice of rare Mozartian timbre used with dramatic and interpretive control, a winner of the Merola Memorial Contest with opera experience at Stern Grove and Oakland, and California concert engagements, Marcus Gordon, internationally known, delivered sympathetic and scholarly accompanying in spite of the handicap of an inadequate piano. This should be remedied for the many concerts to follow every Sunday afternoon at 2:30 until July 2.

The objective of these concerts is to give young promising artists opportunity for appearances and critiques. The now defunct Carmel Musical Arts Club did this for a number of years, and judging from these first two concerts, others should be worthy of attendance by the Peninsula musical public. It should, however, be born in mind there are also young artists in our own neighborhood, not merely out of it, that should have similar attention.

PIGEON RACING RESULTS

The Carmel-Monterey-Seaside Racing Pigeon Club held their second race of the 1961 Old Bird Series on Sunday from Sparks, Nevada, a distance of approximately 230 air miles. Birds were released at 6:00 o'clock in the morning in good weather. Following are the results of the race, in yards per minute: M. Hanssens, Carmel Valley, 1139.8578; M. Hanssens, Carmel Valley, 1139.286; E. Barry, Monterey, 1134.824; E. Anderson, Del Rey Oaks, 1129.160; J. Scott, Carmel Valley, 1127.556; Sykes & Son, Salinas, 1115.892; J. Barbier, Salinas, 1113.618; H. Jones, Seaside, 1057.998; G. Artellan, Carmel Highlands, 1018.436; H. Schumaker, Carmel Valley, 1012.507; Mack & Son, Salinas, 1011.507; G. Souza, Seaside, No report; L. Richards, Marina, No report.

The next race will be on Sunday from Fernly, Nevada, a distance of approximately 250 air miles.

Altar Society Selects Officers

The slate of officers for the coming year was presented and accepted by members of the Carmel Mission Basilica Altar Society at their meeting on April 13 in the home of the Misses Ruth and Lila Moe on Mesa Drive. Miss Dorothy Peacock is the new president; Mrs. John Doud, vice president; Mrs. George D. Wahl, secretary; Mrs. John Call, treasurer.

Mrs. S. Hasket Derby, outgoing president, presided at the business meeting during which plans were discussed for a luncheon in June. Miss Genevieve Gehres, a delegate to the ninety-first convention of the Monterey-Fresno National Council of Catholic Women, reported on the meetings held in Paso Robles. Theme of the convention was A Well Informed Laity. Miss Dorothy Peacock and Mrs. E. Melechchi presided at the tea tables.

Jr., and Eleanor Roosevelt, affirms that "as consumers, we have an active responsibility for the establishment of humane standards of employment and for the protection of the standard of living of our people."

Dr. Lathrop, who is himself a distinguished American, having served almost a half-century as minister of the Brooklyn, N.Y., Church of the Saviour and worked in various programs for religious freedom all over the world, lists the current targets now receiving Consumers League attention and action as the following:

1. Increase of the minimum wage law to $1.25 per hour and extending Fair Labor Standards Act coverage.
2. Provision of health insurance

3. Enaction of federal aid to public education for school construction and teachers' salaries, leaving the choice to the states.

4. Assistance to chronically depressed areas, and

5. Instituting an omnibus program for housing construction, including especially slum clearance, urban renewal and housing for the elderly.

"Other consumer groups have worked toward protecting the consumer from fraud and advising him of the best buys for his money," Dr. Lathrop explains. "But our organization probes deeper and asks for major social reforms."

"The concept of a 'white list' was one of the ideas introduced by the League. We published a list of manufacturers and producers maintaining satisfactory conditions of labor and cleanliness and left off the names of those who didn't measure up. Some of those left off made haste to improve themselves and get on the list. The idea has since been put to good use by other organizations."

Dr. Lathrop said the function of the League is two-fold, one section of it in the nature of a research and educational group, and the other a frankly political "pressure" group greatly respected by the lawmakers in Washington, D.C., where headquarters are now maintained.

Dr. Lathrop's church (Unitarian) is among those denominations which hold that religion should apply to the whole of life; hence the clergyman's long interest in social causes. In addition to the Consumers League, he is president of the Euthanasia Society in this country, a former officer of the American Red Cross and an advisor of the India League of America.

Ordained in 1905 after receiving degrees from Harvard University and Meadville Theological School, Dr. Lathrop did additional studying at Szeged, Hungary, University of Jena, University of Chicago, New York University, the New School for Social Research and elsewhere, and served as minister of the First Unitarian Church of Berkeley before going to the available at City Hall next week so that Carmel residents may take advantage of the $2.00 license fee which is in effect until May 31. After that dog licenses will cost $3.00. All dogs must show a rabies vaccination certificate to obtain a license.

Another reduced-fee clinic for rabies vaccination will be held on April 27 at the Carmel Valley Fire Station from 10:00 o'clock until noon.

Mr. Plaxton speaks only in praise of the dogs at Tuesday's clinic. There were no quarrels, he reports. The dogs had varied reactions to their "shots." Some were subdued, some nervous, others went through the experience with great aplomb. All were rewarded with "a doggy tidbit treat." Mrs. Eleanor Shepherd of the city hall staff assisted Mr. Plaxton.

Brooklyn church, where he was minister from 1911 to 1957.

As early as 1927, he served as chairman of the American Committee on Religious Rights and Minorities, going as a delegate to Rumania, and as a member of the executive committee of the Masaryk Institute, but he may have made his greatest contribution in the field of human affairs as president of the International Association for Liberal Christianity and Religious Freedom, meeting with the group in Copenhagen in 1934, Amsterdam in 1949, Oxford in 1952 and Chicago in 1958, and travelling throughout Europe and Russia as a representative for the association.

He received the Order of the White Lion from the president of Czechoslovakia in 1946 and a 1956 award from the American Unitarian Association which he has also served as an officer. In addition to a number of articles and essays, he is author of two books, The Living Faith of a Unitarian and Toward Discovering a Religion.

Carmel has long been a favorite spot for Dr. and Mrs. Lathrop. "We came here on a honeymoon in 1906," And Peninsula friends have long supported Dr. Lathrop's views on needed social changes.

Nearest officer in the Consumers League in this area is Mrs. Hubert Wyckoff of Watsonville, who has been active in Sacramento in support of various state actions.

Nearing 81, Dr. Lathrop says, "I would like to hand some of these responsibilities along to someone younger and retire. I'll always be interested but I can't always be so active as I have been."

However, on his desk during the interview, in a prominent spot, was a petition he was circulating from still another social-action group in which the minister emeritus has an interest, and he was on the Peninsula to fulfill one of his frequent speaking engagements. All these things considered, it seemed unlikely Dr. Lathrop's retirement would be taken very seriously, even by him.

Hugh McGlone

Hugh McGlone, 87, died in a Salinas hospital on Tuesday after a long period of failing health. He had been a Carmel resident for 42 years.

Mr. McGlone was born in Leitrim County, Ireland. He came to California in 1903. After he moved to Carmel, he lived on Monte Verde Street near Tenth Avenue.

He is survived by no close relatives.

Funeral services will be held on Friday morning, 10:00 o'clock, in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with Dr. Joseph M. Ewing of the Carmel Presbyterian Church officiating. Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mr. McGlone may do so in the form of donations to Mrs. Rose Voi, a resident of Pebble Beach for the past four and a half years, died on Saturday in a St. Helena sanitarium after several months' illness. She made her home with Mrs. Hobart Prince.

Rose Voi

Mrs. Voi was born in New York City on July 26, 1911. She lived in San Francisco before coming here. Her husband, Charles Voi, died in 1947.

There are no close survivors. Private funeral services were held in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea on Monday. Burial was in the Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.
